

A Vietnam Vets Remarkable Life

Its 1967 and Jethro is a 20-year-old Aussie lad who is about to take up his new posting in Vietnam. Five months later Jethro is on his way home in a medic chopper with a third of his body blown away: one leg is amputated, his right hand and half of his left hand -- gone. And so begins Jethros journey back to a whole life. This is the story of a wounded soldier and what happens to survivors. And through all his darkest days, Jethros mates display the true Aussie spirit that has been mythologised since the days of the original Anzacs. Mates who stand by each other no matter what. This is the true story of what it means to be a soldier and a man in Australia.
