

Teen Success! Jump Start Ideas to Move Your Mind

JumpStart: Ideas to Move Your Mind Sometimes teens can use a little help with life skills This unique self-discovery guidebook and journal is perfect for any talented high school or early college student. A former science teacher, Elyé found that many of her bright students were full of dreams, but often lacked specific skills in areas such as decision making, time management, and leadership, which they would need to succeed. She formed The Monday Box Group--talented students who explored a different skill area each Monday using short essays and handouts created by Elyé. This book is based on Elyé's Monday Box Group essays. With a warm conversational style, Elyé passes along practical suggestions to help teens jumpstart their minds, achieve their goals, and appreciate their lives.
