

Your Time Your Goals Your Future (Dynamic Productivity Institute. Book 4)

Well here we are at the last book in the series Dynamic Productivity Institute. This last book is really going tie up all the content of the previous thre books and leave you with some Thought Provoking Statements.I have never found rounding off easy. During my time in the corporate world I used to get so entrenched in a project that I would live it and found it hard to start something new. that is a bit how I feel now having reached the end of this project.I remember my school Maths Master saying to me in front of the whole Class when I was stuck with not understanding a problem: Norman, until and unless you solve this you cannot go to the next stage. But when I grew up and leave school it all changed, not least is self discipline.As adults we are required and expected to get things done, set our own goals and divine our own future and there is nothing wrong with that because to a greater or lesser extent all adults do it.What this whole series has been about is how YOU do it and how YOU project yourself personally and professionally.This last book ties it all together. I hope you enjoyed it and if you did you may choose to visit my website where all my other books are on display. Go To <http://amazonkindlebookman.com>
