

Wired Working

We know our business landscape is transforming, Whether dot.com or not.com, we are all working in a new economy in a world that is fast, knowledge-led and wired. While many organizations are waking up to this new reality, they have tended to focus on developing new business strategies rather than developing their new economy attitude--encouraging the skills, mindset and behaviors necessary for success. With real-life case studies and insights from around the world, Wired Working looks beyond the hype of the new economy and post-Internet bubble to offer real, practical strategies for meeting the challenges of a fast moving world; whether in anew economy start-up or an old economy organization facing the necessity of change.
