

The Shipping Forecast: A Miscellany

The rhythmic lullaby of North Utsire, South Utsire™ has been lulling the nation's™ insomniacs to sleep for over 90 years. It has inspired songs, poetry and imaginations across the globe – as well as providing a very real service for the nation's™ seafarers who might fall prey to storms and gales. In 1995, a plan to move the late-night broadcast by just 12 minutes caused a national outcry and was ultimately scrapped. Published with Radio 4 and the Met Office, The Shipping Forecast is the official miscellany for seafarers and armchair travellers alike. From the places themselves – how they got their names, what™ happened there through the ages – to the poems and parodies that it™ inspired, this is a beautifully evocative tribute to one of Britain's – and Radio 4's – best-loved broadcasts.
